

The World's average circulation for first two months of 1894, 433,167 per day.

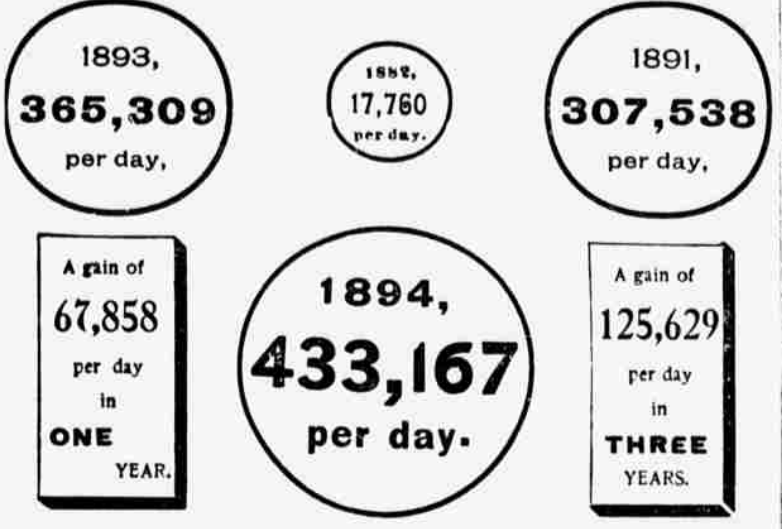

PRICE ONE CENT.

BREAKS All Records=

THE WORLD'S ADVANCE Its Daily Average Circulation the Largest on Record.

Section 717a. Every proprietor or publisher of any newspaper or periodical who shall wilfully or knowingly misrepresent the circulation of such newspaper or periodical for the purpose of securing advertising or other patronage shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

AVERAGE CIRCULATION FOR FIRST TWO MONTHS OF

CIRCULATION OF THE WORLD FOR Each Day of January and February This Year COMPARED WITH Corresponding Days of Last Year and Three Years Ago:

|                        | 1891.      | 1893.      | 1894.      |
|------------------------|------------|------------|------------|
| Jan. 1.....            | 202,010    | 263,845    | 274,440    |
| Jan. 2.....            | 284,040    | 239,607    | 408,582    |
| Jan. 3.....            | 289,850    | 354,116    | 410,560    |
| Jan. 4.....            | 240,040    | 352,223    | 407,765    |
| Jan. 5.....            | 279,670    | 346,541    | 411,500    |
| Jan. 6.....            | 283,540    | 342,588    | 408,463    |
| Jan. 7.....            | 286,900    | 351,146    | 429,985    |
| Jan. 8.....            | 287,790    | 354,739    | 418,669    |
| Jan. 9.....            | 288,510    | 353,935    | 412,898    |
| Jan. 10.....           | 292,330    | 347,837    | 406,622    |
| Jan. 11.....           | 240,290    | 344,958    | 411,131    |
| Jan. 12.....           | 290,770    | 342,090    | 409,685    |
| Jan. 13.....           | 290,160    | 348,442    | 412,975    |
| Jan. 14.....           | 295,540    | 350,284    | 424,734    |
| Jan. 15.....           | 295,960    | 353,827    | 440,381    |
| Jan. 16.....           | 295,960    | 350,504    | 427,087    |
| Jan. 17.....           | 279,200    | 355,079    | 425,075    |
| Jan. 18.....           | 240,800    | 357,430    | 427,611    |
| Jan. 19.....           | 298,920    | 361,664    | 428,795    |
| Jan. 20.....           | 301,090    | 358,692    | 428,545    |
| Jan. 21.....           | 304,200    | 362,030    | 430,425    |
| Jan. 22.....           | 298,960    | 364,034    | 431,324    |
| Jan. 23.....           | 305,410    | 359,936    | 418,149    |
| Jan. 24.....           | 304,840    | 366,036    | 432,462    |
| Jan. 25.....           | 248,560    | 366,656    | 438,122    |
| Jan. 26.....           | 303,790    | 379,672    | 450,794    |
| Jan. 27.....           | 308,620    | 402,993    | 438,730    |
| Jan. 28.....           | 303,520    | 380,761    | 429,572    |
| Jan. 29.....           | 305,360    | 364,210    | 417,698    |
| Jan. 30.....           | 303,510    | 372,562    | 450,643    |
| Jan. 31.....           | 302,970    | 372,543    | 439,940    |
| Feb. 1.....            | 245,200    | 368,125    | 449,503    |
| Feb. 2.....            | 301,680    | 369,845    | 439,627    |
| Feb. 3.....            | 302,580    | 371,315    | 446,149    |
| Feb. 4.....            | 297,290    | 366,465    | 430,226    |
| Feb. 5.....            | 300,310    | 365,020    | 438,037    |
| Feb. 6.....            | 300,660    | 362,190    | 432,421    |
| Feb. 7.....            | 298,520    | 372,305    | 443,582    |
| Feb. 8.....            | 246,100    | 371,354    | 447,508    |
| Feb. 9.....            | 292,390    | 374,524    | 433,318    |
| Feb. 10.....           | 301,220    | 375,471    | 447,378    |
| Feb. 11.....           | 304,830    | 378,314    | 430,219    |
| Feb. 12.....           | 309,120    | 365,199    | 427,833    |
| Feb. 13.....           | 310,250    | 354,460    | 428,896    |
| Feb. 14.....           | 328,470    | 376,019    | 434,918    |
| Feb. 15.....           | 247,450    | 378,457    | 476,864    |
| Feb. 16.....           | 301,510    | 381,943    | 444,918    |
| Feb. 17.....           | 305,050    | 376,429    | 443,565    |
| Feb. 18.....           | 311,160    | 370,345    | 430,316    |
| Feb. 19.....           | 311,420    | 366,784    | 474,108    |
| Feb. 20.....           | 326,500    | 369,943    | 453,379    |
| Feb. 21.....           | 311,160    | 377,301    | 464,541    |
| Feb. 22.....           | 246,500    | 314,049    | 461,530    |
| Feb. 23.....           | 277,820    | 378,612    | 446,654    |
| Feb. 24.....           | 310,240    | 382,448    | 433,253    |
| Feb. 25.....           | 306,450    | 384,428    | 430,235    |
| Feb. 26.....           | 295,380    | 366,538    | 444,109    |
| Feb. 27.....           | 302,320    | 384,870    | 452,656    |
| Feb. 28.....           | 305,960    | 379,404    | 455,425    |
| Weekly and Semi-Weekly | 17,180,580 | 20,512,802 | 24,612,520 |
| Grand Total.....       | 18,144,790 | 21,553,265 | 25,556,869 |
| Daily Average.....     | 307,538    | 365,309    | 433,167    |

For the First Two Months of 1894 Averaged, Daily, 433,167

LAST EDITION. HIT CHIEF CROKER.

John F. Scannell's Brother Felled Him with a Beer Bottle.

Croker Is Nephew of the Boss of Tammany Hall.

Have Been Enemies Many Years and Scannell Was Drunk.

Battalion Chief Edward F. Croker, who is a nephew of Richard Croker, was a complainant at Jefferson Market Court this morning against Edward A. Scannell, brother of Fire Commissioner Scannell.

Scannell is thirty-seven years old and lives at 508 East Eighty-eighth street. He was formerly a fireman in the Department, but his dissipated habits and irregular methods led to his being dropped from the rolls.

At about 10 o'clock last evening, while Chief Croker was at the No. 12 hook and ladder house, in West Twentieth street, he was told that Scannell wanted to see him. He went out in front of the fire house where Scannell was waiting. The latter had been drinking.

Stepping up to the Chief, Scannell asked him if he could get him another position in the Department. Croker replied that he could not. Then Scannell reached to his hip pocket and drew out a beer bottle. He struck Croker two blows, one on the temple and one on the top of the head.

Croker was knocked down and rendered almost insensible by the second blow. When he regained his feet he struck Scannell in the face, and a moment later, when he recovered himself completely, he struck Scannell a second blow which broke the ex-fireman's nose. Scannell then ran into a saloon at Seventh avenue and Twentieth street. Toberman Schattner, who gained some notoriety by reason of the charges Mrs. Hark recently made against him, joined the latter saw Croker he hurried a beer glass at the chief, and ran out into Seventh avenue, followed closely by the policeman.

At twenty-first street Scannell ran into another saloon, and there Schattner, aided by another policeman, took him into custody. At the station-house he was charged with assault, intoxication and disorderly conduct.

Neither Scannell nor Croker would say anything about the fight when they appeared at Jefferson Market Court today. Schattner also had been warned not to talk. Scannell was taken before Justice Ryan, who, without asking any more questions than were absolutely required, held Scannell for examination on March 5 at No. A. M.

Scannell was taken back to Jefferson Market Prison under $300 bail, which he had not secured up to noon.

At the station-house Croker and Scannell were taken back to the station, where the chief was compelled several times during Scannell's examination to call the Fire Department to prefer charges against him. This tended to emphasize the fact that the fight was a serious one.

Richard Croker and Commissioner Scannell tried, it is said, to effect a reconciliation between the two.

APPROPRIATION BILLS NOW.

The House at Washington Has Its Next Work All Laid Out.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The great appropriation bills will engage the attention of the House, now that the Budget bill has been passed, and the House will have to consider the bills now on the calendar, an unusual advance at this time.

It is arranged to begin on the Fortification bill this noon, and to follow it with the bill for the relief of the bill and Sundry Civil bill in the order named.

These measures have the right of way without a special rule, and their consideration will proceed from day to day until all four are passed.

QUIET IN WEST VIRGINIA.

Troops May Leave the Scene of the Mine Troubles To-Day.

ST. LOUIS, March 2.—A special to the Post-Dispatch from Eagle, W. Va., says: All was quiet at the mines today. The night passed without an event of importance.

Some 800 of the strikers held a secret meeting at Montgomery street last night, after which they separated and went to their homes. The troops may be withdrawn before night.

M'KANE'S NEW LIFE.

Convict 119-3 Learning the Tailor's Trade in Sing Sing.

With a Horse-Thief He Marches to Breakfast in the Lock-Step.

The Ex-Boss's Wife Is Seriously Ill at Gravesend.

SING SING, N. Y., March 2.—John Y. McKane is testing the first bitterness to-day of the term of imprisonment which faces him as a felon. He is at work under Capt. Durkin unrolling big pieces of cloth, preparing them for the knife of the cutter. By and by, when he shall have gained the experience necessary, McKane will be allowed to cut the cloth himself, and perhaps in a year or so he will know how to "give out" a pair of trousers or a vest or coat.

McKane, or, as he is only known now, "Convict 119, third gallery," has a low-workman's lawyer, Francis H. Weeks, the embosser, and a friend, "Bert" Ellison, who assaulted Broker Henriques, Convict 119, was awakened at 4 o'clock this morning in connection with the other inmates of the cell in the third gallery. He was under the immediate jurisdiction of Keppel Smith, who will have the distinction of locking McKane in his cell every night and liberating him every morning.

McKane, like any other convict, marched out of his cell at 6 o'clock with his cell book and the bucket-room, and then fell in at the end of the line of convicts and marched to the mess-room for his breakfast. He was assigned to the rear of the line, because he was unable to fall into that peculiar lockstep in which the men as they lay in the cell.

His hands rested on the shoulders of a horse-thief, sent up from New York last night. He was John Brown, who will serve a fifteen-year term of imprisonment.

Convict 119 will be kept at the end of the line for a time. Warden Durston says that as soon as he masters the lockstep, he will be moved along until he reaches that position in the file to which his height entitles him.

Breakfast concluded and McKane ate sparingly of the corned-beef hash and bread, and drank scarcely any of the muddy coffee—the detestable food of the island. McKane was taken to Chaplain John C. Wells's office. There he was asked, in connection with the McKane, whom the Warden should notify.

McKane answered, "Striker William." Then McKane was taken to the prison hospital, where Dr. Irvine, the prison physician, subjected him to the usual examination. That consisted of a merely superficial examination of his body for any wound that would require attention in case of his escape. Dr. Irvine has not yet vaccinated him, neither has he examined him for any venereal disease.

At 9 o'clock McKane was led into the clothing shop and assigned to the usual work of unrolling the pieces of cloth. He finished his first stint of work at 1:30 and knocked up to wash up for dinner, which to-day, Friday, is codfish, milk and potatoes.

At 1:30 the unrolling of cloth at 12:45, to work until 4:15 this afternoon. Then, falling in at the end of the line, as he passed into the prison building, where cell 119 is located, he will be handled some bread and coffee, which he will carry to his cell.

At 9 o'clock to-night all lights in his cell and in the cell next to his will be extinguished, and McKane will sleep, if he can.

That is to-day's record of the life of the convict who was once a boss of the underworld. After he reached cell No. 119, Warden Durston sent him a little book of the prison rules and regulations. Every convict is required to read it, and McKane is no exception.

McKane is a man of about 40 years of age, and he is expected to be a good prisoner. He is a native of New York, and he has been in the prison for some time.

McKane broke down by reason of an existing organic ailment he may be taken to the hospital, and a complete examination and diagnosis of his condition will be made then.

Warden Durston said he knew nothing as to any undue exhibition of despondency on McKane's part. The man was certainly in a state of mental anguish at his disgraceful position when he realized that at last he sat in a felon's cell in the hated striped garb of a convict.

Access to the prison proper is still denied to visitors, and will be until the quarantine is lifted.

The sympathy which had been entirely devoted to John Y. McKane after his conviction and sentence was today turned to the convict who had been taken to the hospital, and a complete examination and diagnosis of his condition will be made then.

McKane is a man of about 40 years of age, and he is expected to be a good prisoner. He is a native of New York, and he has been in the prison for some time.

McKane broke down by reason of an existing organic ailment he may be taken to the hospital, and a complete examination and diagnosis of his condition will be made then.

THE CURIOUS NET OF JUSTICE.

It Catches the Little Fish, the Big Ones Get Away.

FLOWER WON'T SIGN.

Says the Troy Bi-Partisan Inspectors Bill Is Defective.

This Measure Was Rushed Through at Albany Yesterday.

Was Intended to Help Mayor Whelan and Beat Senator Murphy.

ALBANY, March 2.—Gov. Flower has declined to sign the Troy Bi-Partisan Election Inspectors' bill, on the ground that it is defective in form, and the introductory refused to recall it for amendment.

This is the bill which was rushed through both Houses of the Legislature yesterday. In the Assembly, the Democrats refused to vote, but were counted by Speaker Mallory to make a quorum. The bill was hurried to be in time for the Spring elections. It was intended to aid Mayor Whelan, whose reelection is opposed by Speaker Murphy.

PUSHING THE TARIFF BILL.

Voorhees Believes the Full Committee Will Have It Monday.

No Bland Bill Nor Anything Else to Get in Its Way in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Senator Voorhees, of Indiana, is pushing the tariff bill, and he is expected to have it passed by the full committee on Monday.

Senator Voorhees said today that the tariff bill is the only measure of importance that will be taken up by the Finance Committee of the Senate until the tariff bill should be disposed of in the Senate. It is his purpose to draw nothing to interfere with the consideration of the tariff bill when he gets it into the Senate, but to pass it along to the exclusion of all other matters, as he did the Silver bill during the week of the latter.

THE POPE'S BIRTHDAY.

His Holiness Responds to Cardinal Valtierra's Congratulations.

ROME, March 2.—The Pope today celebrated his eighty-fourth birthday and the sixteenth anniversary of his consecration.

Cardinal Raffaele Monaco La Valletta, on behalf of the Sacred College, offered his Holiness congratulations, and the Pope, who was in good health, expressed his thanks, and in the course of his address said:

"We are in the decline of life, but shall continue to the last day of our life to devote ourselves to making the beneficent action of the Church universally felt."

REPORT OF 400 KILLED. Brazilian Rebels Said to Have Been Defeated at Sarandi.

MURDER IN A PRISON.

Keener James B. Lippencott Shot by a Trenton Convict.

Malwitz Overpowered Another Official in Trying to Escape.

Found to Wear Pulp Armor When Wounded and Subdued.

TRENTON, N. J., March 2.—A desperate attempt was made this morning to break out of the State prison by Joseph Malwitz, a twenty-year-old convict, who was sentenced in Union county three years ago for burglary. In attempting to gain his liberty Malwitz shot and killed Keener James B. Lippencott, a convict who was in the prison for a long time.

Malwitz was continually exchanging blows with Lippencott, who was armed with a revolver and a knife. Lippencott was wounded in the head and chest, and he was found to wear pulp armor when he was wounded and subdued.

Malwitz was found to wear pulp armor when he was wounded and subdued. He was found to wear pulp armor when he was wounded and subdued.

Malwitz was found to wear pulp armor when he was wounded and subdued. He was found to wear pulp armor when he was wounded and subdued.

Malwitz was found to wear pulp armor when he was wounded and subdued. He was found to wear pulp armor when he was wounded and subdued.

Malwitz was found to wear pulp armor when he was wounded and subdued. He was found to wear pulp armor when he was wounded and subdued.

Malwitz was found to wear pulp armor when he was wounded and subdued. He was found to wear pulp armor when he was wounded and subdued.

Malwitz was found to wear pulp armor when he was wounded and subdued. He was found to wear pulp armor when he was wounded and subdued.

Malwitz was found to wear pulp armor when he was wounded and subdued. He was found to wear pulp armor when he was wounded and subdued.

Malwitz was found to wear pulp armor when he was wounded and subdued. He was found to wear pulp armor when he was wounded and subdued.

MURDER IN A PRISON.

Keener James B. Lippencott Shot by a Trenton Convict.

Malwitz Overpowered Another Official in Trying to Escape.

Found to Wear Pulp Armor When Wounded and Subdued.

TRENTON, N. J., March 2.—A desperate attempt was made this morning to break out of the State prison by Joseph Malwitz, a twenty-year-old convict, who was sentenced in Union county three years ago for burglary. In attempting to gain his liberty Malwitz shot and killed Keener James B. Lippencott, a convict who was in the prison for a long time.

Malwitz was continually exchanging blows with Lippencott, who was armed with a revolver and a knife. Lippencott was wounded in the head and chest, and he was found to wear pulp armor when he was wounded and subdued.

Malwitz was found to wear pulp armor when he was wounded and subdued. He was found to wear pulp armor when he was wounded and subdued.

Malwitz was found to wear pulp armor when he was wounded and subdued. He was found to wear pulp armor when he was wounded and subdued.

Malwitz was found to wear pulp armor when he was wounded and subdued. He was found to wear pulp armor when he was wounded and subdued.

Malwitz was found to wear pulp armor when he was wounded and subdued. He was found to wear pulp armor when he was wounded and subdued.

Malwitz was found to wear pulp armor when he was wounded and subdued. He was found to wear pulp armor when he was wounded and subdued.

Malwitz was found to wear pulp armor when he was wounded and subdued. He was found to wear pulp armor when he was wounded and subdued.

Malwitz was found to wear pulp armor when he was wounded and subdued. He was found to wear pulp armor when he was wounded and subdued.

Malwitz was found to wear pulp armor when he was wounded and subdued. He was found to wear pulp armor when he was wounded and subdued.

LAST EDITION. FAY GETS FIVE YEARS.

Inspectors Blair, Woodruff and Marron Get Three Months Each.

THEY ARE FINED $100 ALSO.

Ex-Bridge Policeman Lally and Inspector Anderson Pay $250 Each as Punishment.

BONDS OF THREE FORFEITED.

Wholesale Disposal of Clerks Accused of Frauds in the Recent Election.

The trial of the indicted election inspectors was continued to-day before Justice Barrett in the Court of Oyer and Terminer. The fact that a number of these officials have disappeared, and are thought to have fled to escape conviction and punishment, was learned last night. Others have taken flight, and may let their bondsmen answer for them when they are called to the bar.

The rumor that some of these subordinates may give information to the prosecuting officers which will lead to the indictment and punishment of those higher in authority has caused a good deal of anxiety among the political leaders and district bosses of the town. Justice Barrett touched the vital point in the issue which has been brought to the front in the trial of these election fraud cases when he said it was a pity the persons who were behind these violations of the law, whom he was sentencing could not be brought before the bar and punished as they deserved. He added that they should be punished more severely than their tools and victims.

The question is being asked to-day, Why can they not be punished? According to Assistant District Attorney Wellman, the fact that some of these subordinates may give information to the prosecuting officers which will lead to the indictment and punishment of those higher in authority has caused a good deal of anxiety among the political leaders and district bosses of the town.

Justice Barrett touched the vital point in the issue which has been brought to the front in the trial of these election fraud cases when he said it was a pity the persons who were behind these violations of the law, whom he was sentencing could not be brought before the bar and punished as they deserved. He added that they should be punished more severely than their tools and victims.

The question is being asked to-day, Why can they not be punished? According to Assistant District Attorney Wellman, the fact that some of these subordinates may give information to the prosecuting officers which will lead to the indictment and punishment of those higher in authority has caused a good deal of anxiety among the political leaders and district bosses of the town.

Justice Barrett touched the vital point in the issue which has been brought to the front in the trial of these election fraud cases when he said it was a pity the persons who were behind these violations of the law, whom he was sentencing could not be brought before the bar and punished as they deserved. He added that they should be punished more severely than their tools and victims.

The question is being asked to-day, Why can they not be punished? According to Assistant District Attorney Wellman, the fact that some of these subordinates may give information to the prosecuting officers which will lead to the indictment and punishment of those higher in authority has caused a good deal of anxiety among the political leaders and district bosses of the town.

Justice Barrett touched the vital point in the issue which has been brought to the front in the trial of these election fraud cases when he said it was a pity the persons who were behind these violations of the law, whom he was sentencing could not be brought before the bar and punished as they deserved. He added that they should be punished more severely than their tools and victims.

The question is being asked to-day, Why can they not be punished? According to Assistant District Attorney Wellman, the fact that some of these subordinates may give information to the prosecuting officers which will lead to the indictment and punishment of those higher in authority has caused a good deal of anxiety among the political leaders and district bosses of the town.

Justice Barrett touched the vital point in the issue which has been brought to the front in the trial of these election fraud cases when he said it was a pity the persons who were behind these violations of the law, whom he was sentencing could not be brought before the bar and punished as they deserved. He added that they should be punished more severely than their tools and victims.

The question is being asked to-day, Why can they not be punished? According to Assistant District Attorney Wellman, the fact that some of these subordinates may give information to the prosecuting officers which will lead to the indictment and punishment of those higher in authority has caused a good deal of anxiety among the political leaders and district bosses of the town.

Justice Barrett touched the vital point in the issue which has been brought to the front in the trial of these election fraud cases when he said it was a pity the persons who were behind these violations of the law, whom he was sentencing could not be brought before the bar and punished as they deserved. He added that they should be punished more severely than their tools and victims.

The question is being asked to-day, Why can they not be punished? According to Assistant District Attorney Wellman, the fact that some of these subordinates may give information to the prosecuting officers which will lead to the indictment and punishment of those higher in authority has caused a good deal of anxiety among the political leaders and district bosses of the town.

Justice Barrett touched the vital point in the issue which has been brought to the front in the trial of these election fraud cases when he said it was a pity the persons who were behind these violations of the law, whom he was sentencing could not be brought before the bar and punished as they deserved. He added that they should be punished more severely than their tools and victims.

The question is being asked to-day, Why can they not be punished? According to Assistant District Attorney Wellman, the fact that some of these subordinates may give information to the prosecuting officers which will lead to the indictment and punishment of those higher in authority has caused a good deal of anxiety among the political leaders and district bosses of the town.

The World Almanac 25 Cts.